

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.—And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep.— And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. (Genesis 1:1-2)

(There are only two explanations for the origin of The universe: speculation and revelation. There is no scientific explanation since it was not observed and cannot be repeated. Observations today assume constancy and uniformity and that is speculation, not science.)

For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, — the sea, and all that in them is, — and rested the seventh day: — wherefore the LORD blessed the sabbath day, — and hallowed it. (Exodus 20:11)

Lift up your eyes on high, —and behold who hath created these things, — that bringeth out their host by number: —he calleth them all by names — by the greatness of his might, — for that he is strong in power; — not one faileth. (Isaiah 40:26)

For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens: — God himself that formed the earth and made it; — he hath established it, — he created it not in vain, — he formed it to be inhabited: —I am the LORD; and there is none else. (Isaiah 45:18)

So God created man in his own image,— in the image of God created he him;— male and female created he them.

And God blessed them,— and God said unto them, — Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: — and have dominion over the fish of the sea,— and over the fowl of the air, — and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth. (Genesis 1:27-28)

Praise him, ye heavens of heavens, — and ye waters that be above the heavens. — Let them praise the name of the LORD: —for he commanded, and they were created.

He hath also stablished them for ever and ever: — he hath made a decree which shall not pass. (Psalm 148:4-6)

Thus saith God the LORD, — he that created the heavens, — and stretched them out; — he that spread forth the earth, — and that which cometh out of it; — he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, — and spirit to them that walk therein: (Isaiah 42:5)

In the beginning was the Word, —and the Word was with God, —and the Word was God.

The same was in the beginning with God.

All things were made by him; — and without him —was not any thing made that was made. (John 1:1-3)
